Cookie/Nutty Dough cards are only valid for approximately one year before expiration. Girls can “bank” their Cookie/Nutty dough cards to extend the expiration date. Banking a Cookie/Nutty Dough card will extend the expiration by three years from the year it was set to expire. All Banked dough will expire on September 30th of that 3rd year. For example, if you banked a cookie/nutty dough card on April 2024 that was expiring June 2024, the banked cookie/nutty dough will expire on September 30, 2027)

Keep in mind; we pay vendors, not people. In which case, we cannot reimburse. You must include an invoice with the check request, and we will send payment directly to the vendor. Check requests must be submitted four weeks before the due date of payment to allow for processing.

We understand some vendors will not take a 3rd party check, in that case please reach out to bankeddough@gssgc.org for prior review and approval. Please only make purchases after first contacting the Council.

Gifted Dough: Girls may gift their Cookie/Nutty Dough to another girl by writing a letter stating that they would like to gift the card to (receiving girl’s name) with their signature and their guardian’s signature. The girl receiving the gifted card will need to show that letter when using the gifted card.

*Only active (non-expired) cards can be banked.
